COME AND SING

Conductor Robert Hammersley has had a distinguished musical career firstly at Kings Cambridge (Senior Chorister 1955-6) then at Magdalen Oxford (Senior Choral Scholar 1973) where he was conductor of the Schola Cantorum of Oxford (1971-74). He has conducted the London Mozart Players, Bournemouth Sinfonietta and the English Chamber Orchestra and was Musical Director of the Holst Chamber Choir and Orchestra. Both as conductor and tenor soloist (Monteverdi Choir, platinum disc with Guildford Cathedral) he was often on recordings and BBC broadcasts in the 1970's. Since then he has concentrated his career in education and was Director of Music at Ardingly College from 1996—2007.

Accompanist Rosemary Cole trained at Trinity College of Music and is well known locally for her great skills as an accompanist. For some time Director of Music at Ardingly Junior School, she now concentrates there on piano teaching and accompanying.
